Powering Improvement is Prominent at the ENA SHE Management Conference 2013 (May 2013)

The annual Safety, Health and Environment Conference (SHE2013 Programme) took place on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of May 2013, the event was hosted in Manchester by Electricity North West Limited. At the event, 'Powering Improvement' was a topic of particular interest for the second session following the keynote speakers. It included talks from Peter McCormick (PI Coordinator, ENA), Doug Wilson (UK Director General Services, ScottishPower), Frank Mitchell (CEO, ScottishPower Energy Networks), Mike Clancy (General Secretary, Prospect) and Nick Gill (Field Operations Director, Northern Powergrid), each speaking to promote the PI initiative to the assembled industry delegates. All presentations given at SHE2013, including a press release for the event can be accessed via the Energy Networks Website.

Powering Improvement at the ENA Well Connected Reception (May 2013)

Speakers at Energy Networks Association's (ENA) Well Connected Reception on Wednesday 22nd May 2013 celebrated the health and safety work of the industry but warned of challenges ahead with new technologies, a loss of corporate memory and the current attack on standards. David Smith, Chief Executive of ENA opened the event highlighting Powering Improvement, the industry's 5 year safety initiative and the focus of the reception. Rt Hon Stephen Timms (MP), Frank Mitchell (ScottishPower Energy Networks) and Mike Clancy (General Secretary of Prospect) were of many that spoke highly of the work involved in Powering Improvement so far.
